To Whom It May Concern,

We, hereby, confirm that Mr. Pujan Ziaie, born 13.03. 82, has been working at Mehdi Karroubi's presidential campaign in Iran as IT strategist and consultant from February 2009 until the middle of May 2009 and the responsible person for Iranian citizens living abroad afterwards until the election (12. June 2009).

During his volunteering, Mr. Ziaie showed a great performance and an admirable personality. He, first, prepared the IT-strategy document of the campaign and designed and managed the development of one of our major websites, campaign88.ir, to present the virtual campaign's portal. Campaign88.ir website acts as a connecting node for the different web-services we use to perform campaign activities such as advertisement, information sharing and data collection together with managing and encouraging volunteers and sponsors.

Based on his previous experiences and education, he was then given the responsibility to prepare Mr. Karroubi's future plans and visions for ICT in Iran. He accomplished this task by preparing this valuable document that was also published as one of Mr. Karroubi's major plans for the election. At this moment, he is assigned the responsibility to establish connection between our campaign and Iranian citizens living in foreign countries and promote our candidate and his plans. Knowing the interests and concerns of more than five million Iranians who reside outside of Iran is of great importance for our campaign and we trust he will accomplish this assignment as well. Although his engagement with us in Iran was for a short period, he proved to be a very useful and smart member of our campaign and it was indeed a pleasure to have him in our team.

Faithfully yours,

Gholamhossein Karbaschi

The Head of Campaign and Mehdi Karroubi's Running Mate
